

Dr. John Beiter

Many doctors speak of their bedside manner. Dr. John Beiter teaches clients better bedside man-ners, to help them reach their personal sexual and relationship goals.

As a clinically trained psychologist and certified sex therapist, he works with individuals and couples to help them learn how they can overcome communication blocks, develop stronger bonds of intimacy, and enjoy healthier sexual relationships.

“I instruct people on how to identify their own love language,” says Dr. Beiter, whose affable, nonjudgmental demeanor immediately puts clients at ease.

His Beiter Sexuality Preference Indicator is a five-minute psychology test that helps people understand their sexual preferences. Find it at www.sexhealthdoc.com.

Dr. Beiter runs a relationship fitness bootcamp, where couples learn to strengthen emotional connections and dive into deeper levels of intimacy.

For sex therapy, inhibited sexual desire, communication issues, open relationships, erectile dysfunction, body image, anxiety, unresolved anger, and self-esteem issues, Dr. Beiter is the trusted choice. ■
